Come in and find out about research data

Documenting and searching for social science data in the GESIS data reference system

The aim of the GESIS data reference system is to collect and provide information about social science research data in Germany.

Data producers can document their data in the catalogue while researchers can search for data for secondary analysis.

Sophia Kratz
sophia.kratz@gesis.org

www.da-ra.de